Academic Members

This section lists the Academic Members of the Association.

Academic membership is by invitation only at the discretion of the committee. Eligible academics are those who are in a full time academic teaching or research post and whose field of teaching or research consists primarily of Chancery work, and who are not in independent practice at the Bar of England and Wales. There are, of course, many Chancery Bar Association members who combine academic teaching duties with their legal practice. They are listed in the main section of this Directory.
