

Dear Court User

HMCS is continuously looking into ways of delivering improved customer service, against increasingly limited resources. Our staff is unable to answer every phone call enquiry relating to the cause list therefore we would like to deliver the daily cause list directly to your email address.

As a part of our distribution list initiative we would like to email you the daily cause list by 16:30 the day before to the provided email address from the 22nd of November 2010. Please note that on certain occasions we might need to send you an amended cause lists thereafter. If you are interested in participating in our distribution list initiative please provide the following details in the spaces provided below:
